Whispers from The Brighter World
A Fifth Revelation

Tuesday, April 25, 2006 – 10:00 a.m.

May the joy that delights the soul overwhelm you in this moment when you come towards us, trustful and peaceful, leaving behind your worries related to the world of men. Prepare for this celebration; your heart is very sensitive to it, given its likely impact in the hearts of your brothers and sisters. Celebrating a birthday in our Mission goes well beyond the event by reinforcing subtle bonds between them, which benefit the entire Mission on this Earth. Do not feel isolated; you do participate in this great feast that is not limited to one day. May your heart be assured on this aspect: on no account could grace forget it. Let a highly fruitful harvest mature in you; offered to the Divine, it can grow ad infinitum.

"This language is likely to seem abstract to ill-informed hearts not involved in a search where divine love leaves its deep mark in the most secret fibres of the being. Many people will follow us in this way, armed with a strong mystical experience to which they aspire. They are filled with the thirst for the Divine without realising it. Caught up by the swirl of life, they sometimes neglect this call, which, until it is satisfied, leaves them with a sense of lack, a vacuum which nothing can replace. Thus is the progress of a soul on the path of liberation, up to the apotheosis capable of freeing it from the perilous tribulations of the material world.

"May your heart be intoxicated with love. Enjoy these moments of communion when it only exists to love and to be offered to the divine Omnipotence. The rest does not matter. All is only illusion in this world, where to do what must and can be done constitutes one of the aspects of the role-playing imposed in each incarnation leading to the final conclusion. United with the heart of your Master, let yourself be carried away, surrendered, as is proper in such a situation, to the transcendence of the all-powerful Spirit capable of achieving wonders. Be at peace."
