Whispers from The Brighter World

A Fifth Revelation

Friday, December 15, 2006 – 4:00 p.m.

Our hearts cannot be weary of praising and venerating our Beloved Guide. May He ever grant us the same attention and keep bestowing on us the graces that only his divine heart knows how to provide."

The Medium: "My Master, following you in these journeyings provides an unrivalled joy. You are the most reliable example and the strength on which the devotion of a heart enthralled by yours depends."

"These contacts foster an exchange between your hearts. They are so unique after all these years during which the messages accumulated, and that by divine grace. They conclude a beautiful story that will be remembered through time and in which our brothers and sisters will hear an echo from within their depths – which will help them understand their inner process.

"The vibration of these writings is special, in terms of their simplicity. They are not futile; many will be able to acknowledge this and will highly value them in the sadhana. In a prelude to this golden age of spirituality on Earth, may these messages be recorded in the depths of the hearts and unfailingly on the records of time."

"Let us join our forces and our sensitivities to meet the wishes of our Divine Guide, which go far beyond what is expected of us here below. This history – ours – has long been written, as we can see once again. The more we proceed in the world of the Spirit, the more we discover the complexity of our lives. In their extreme smallness, they are mere infinite particles in the vastness of creation – a masterpiece indecipherable to beings, however advanced they may be. We should, confidently, let our lives follow their course as they should, guided by the higher authorities.

"Only this availability is appropriate; all the remainder is given to us in addition. Therefore, let us be immersed in his divine heart and love Him, above all."
