Whispers from The Brighter World
A Fifth Revelation

Sunday, December 31, 2006 – 10:00 a.m.

The Medium:"My Beloved, your greatness merges into space. It animates worlds and its glow haloes the ardent souls ready to follow you in a highly complex mystical odyssey. Humans, at the current level of consciousness, cannot conceive of the breadth of your influence; however, hearts won over by you can modestly manage to do so, by divine grace."

My child, you made your life an offering to divine love, and our hearts are the targets thereof. Is there any higher praise than this? Without this burning faith, would all these messages exist in such quantity? To serve in this extraordinary situation is to actually not set any limits on oneself. Only true surrender can foster such availability that goes beyond time spent noting down these lines; this point needs emphasising. You are following in the footsteps of your Master. He sets a fine example in this world, by his full devotion and constant availability to our cause. His workload continues to grow with time, with all its implications on the human and spiritual planes. Being vested with a mission at such a level is not exempt from trouble, as very many difficulties keep arising from all sides. His faith and the love that drives him are firmly anchored, enabling him to advance at all costs. Everything will be returned to him a hundredfold, according to divine laws. That is how it is."

Babuji

"Our Beloved knows how to motivate us and maintain in us the sacred flame giving us access to his divine heart. Caught in the dynamics of the Spirit, our hearts let themselves be carried away, intoxicated and happy to take part in this unique feast near him.

"Evanescent and sublime is this enchantment into which He invites us, and where, in these moments, His power seems to be increased tenfold and to be humanly inexpressible, insofar as it dazzles us.

"Do not lose heart, my dear sister; time works for us. Let us make sure that our priority rests in loving and serving him as much as possible, by His grace. Be blessed."
