Whispers from The Brighter World

A Fifth Revelation

Tuesday, January 9, 2007 – 4:00 p.m.

How can he not be loved! His radiance cannot be conceived humanly, but here, our Divine guide takes on his actual stature at par with the greatest ones. Happy, surrendered and determined to serve him, our faith in him is not limited to these comments; these are only a way of trying to convey what we feel for this Being, that is to say, in his higher reality which our brothers and sisters cannot fathom.

"Our beautiful story will not come to an end. It will carry on elsewhere, where communication requires neither words nor writings, but a vibratory exchange that is appropriate to the network where it takes place. This afterlife will be different in many respects. Who will we be, and what will be our role in this new configuration where we will have to work? His will, will be ours; that is all we can say for now."

"You are full of wisdom. If need be, these writings will show it, my dear son. May the era of the Spirit come in the world of humans, when its transcendence will be felt here below, enlightening humans and enabling them to position themselves in a more correct manner towards this higher reality. Our way contributes to it. It has that privilege and it will show it in this pivotal century for the evolution of mankind. Mankind will be granted an opportunity. What use will it make of it? Let us continue to work for the good of souls that are advancing towards an Eden of peace and love, one that we wish for all those who are striving towards it.

"May peace be in all hearts, in those of our aspirants and beyond! As for you, my son, may you keep this ultimate treasure; it will glorify you in the kingdom of the giants of the Spirit, where we are awaiting you."
