Whispers from The Brighter World
A Fifth Revelation

Thursday, January 11, 2007 – 10:00 a.m.

The Medium: "O Babuji, when you thus make my vibration rise up and allow me to listen very attentively to your heart, mine is suffused with joy – the only worthwhile feeling, as it is sublimated so much by your grace."

My child, all these years of perseverance in following us, in giving us your best, lent to our relationship its exceptional aspects that will leave their mark on many hearts; you can believe me.

"When we communicate with your Master, this sort of 'triumvirate' allows more diverse exchanges that facilitate the expression of love in the highest form possible. Your life is not easy; continue to struggle, as we did on the Earth, and as your Master too is doing. The Ultimate cannot be reached easily; we are helping you as much as necessary. Remain completely united with your Master, my dear daughter. Be blessed."

Babuji

"Our knowing that you are so attentive alleviates our burden on this Earth. It is a solace that helps us to endure what has to be endured to accomplish a mission programmed for divine service. You, our divine and glorious guide, you know how to obtain the best from us through this sustained attention, through this love that constantly manifests itself in one form or another. Yes, these exchanges foster another approach, even if these comments to your glory are punctuated with repetitions. You give us life, that which outlasts a transient incarnation. You accompany it and strengthen it with your constant blessings, while making it grow and blossom according to your wishes. May this love, mentioned here so many times, never stop growing and touching other hearts that are following us on the path!"
