Whispers from The Brighter World

A Fifth Revelation

Saturday, January 13, 2007 – 5:00 p.m.

Our journeys are embellished with this extraordinary mystical love manifested in the person of our Divine guide. After having lived through a complete time period where we experienced similar events in our childhood and adulthood, we were awaited within the Immutable, in his Divine heart where what was bound to happen had to happen, in view of our spiritual evolution. One could only draw a parallel between our destinies, even if our respective roles are not equally important! Regardless, as far as we are concerned, the main thing brings us together in this long-anticipated apotheosis within a spiritual way that is particularly dear to our heart – and whose quintessence future mankind will be able to benefit from through a completely different approach to spiritual life."

"The ways of God are unfathomable; they hold many surprises for humans, especially when they prepare them for a special mission. All arrangements are being made in support of circumstances whereby destiny will achieve its ends. Man is an asset in this context where the divine power prevails and against which, given his extreme smallness, man is helpless. Thus are the laws in their essence. Certain mysteries are not revealed on Earth; they remain the prerogative of this Omnipotence and are known, when necessary, to divinised beings who have access to the great ledger of life."

"Wisdom requires utmost surrender in the face of the divine Omnipotence that governs our destinies; this is the only attitude possible and worth having for one who aspires to merging into the Ultimate.

"All is simple. Indeed, man is small, and to him, God, in his infinite greatness, is beyond imagination; this is how it is."
