Whispers from The Brighter World

A Fifth Revelation

Thesday, January 16, 2007; – 10:00 a.m.

Putting oneself to the limit, and giving one's best for a cause considered as a just one, provides the soul with profound joy; this is what you are doing, my daughter. Many of our brothers and sisters are relentlessly committed. They draw their motivation from their faith in us and in a Master completely surrendered to the higher powers. Thus are great things accomplished in this world and beyond. Half-heartedness generates only disillusions, whereas the satisfaction of having done one's duty, whatever the outcome, never wanes. Acting for what one believes to be good develops the being and reinforces within our Mission an energy that is conducive to self-development – including a sense of availability that facilitates spiritual elevation.

"You are our messenger, a ray of sunshine for the heart of your Master who is often weary from the difficulties of the material world. These messages convey to him another echo emanating from our hearts, from another level of consciousness, thus confirming what he himself perceives being beside us."

Babuji

"As an instrument of the Divine, surrendered and generous, you delight our hearts, my dear sister; this has to be said! "It is good indeed to receive other echoes when they proceed from the will of the highly revered Babuji Maharaj. Being blessed and supported by him, what would we not do to please him? For his love to be expressed to us, do we not become again like little children in the presence of his divine heart! Loving him and repeating it to him endlessly is both our weakness and our strength since, thanks to him, we feel invincible in our faith and our eagerness to serve him."
