e happy, my child. Seeing you reach this point fills us with joy.
Anything we can possibly tell you on this issue seems unreal to you. You react under such circumstances as if it concerned someone else. You are a phenomenon!

The Medium: I do my best to please you; that's all that matters.
I am the poor abhyasi, isolated in her tower and on whom you cast your eyes. What more could I ask!

We do not regret it, it is a good investment.

There are other such investments to be made concerning our associates.

You all live in an era where the key words are: capital, interest, balance sheet, etc. ...

Why wouldn't we also have a specific vocabulary?

Our business is of great importance and will not collapse after the fall of the dollar, the euro and other currencies.

Our multinationals are firmly established; we don't worry for the future, unlike the biggest business leaders of the world, who can be ruined overnight. This happens now, it has happened dramatically in the past and will happen again.

All values will be thoroughly reviewed. It will be necessary to set out again on new bases, with new circumstances, but that does not concern us here and now.

People will have to adapt themselves, so arm yourselves to face any eventuality.

Make your spiritual values bear fruit.

No one can take them away from you. No stock market crash will destabilize you on this point.

Your capital is unassailable, cherish it, it is your most precious asset.
