Whispers from The Brighter World

A Fifth Revelation

Friday, January 26, 2007 – 10:00 a.m.

A new era calls for new concepts. Divine laws are immutable, but it is advisable to adapt to this evolution, to better serve. Man's broadmindedness will raise questions; answers will have to be given, including in our way, which has long since opened a door onto other dimensions of consciousness. The power of the Spirit will end up setting ablaze this world, when the moment comes and without any resistance. An enormous work remains to be done and it will be done, this is how it is.

"Nothing is in vain; no effort is useless, as everything is counted. You, the great servants of our Mission, faithful and convinced, each at your respective levels and following your Master, you work for this future – never forget it."

Babuji

"God, in his great infinite goodness, allows us to serve under the guidance of great beings who are protecting our way. To give one's best until the end, as long as grace is there – is there anything more beautiful! This stay on Earth is so short compared to eternity, but only this aspect of life is rewarding; isn't the remainder generally meant to satisfy the ego when a strict analysis of things is done. Loving, serving, is not vain; all our aspirants who are committed to their spiritual life can convince themselves of this and act accordingly. Serving is also working for oneself; this should not be forgotten. The divine grace can transport one to unsuspected heights. Therefore, let us be carried away, trustful and completely surrendered. Thus are our destinies fulfilled as they should be. Happy are hearts that are receptive and offered; they keep receiving and are growing stronger in loving."

"The great wisdom of these two beings so dear to my heart, one incarnate, the other acting in the ethereal spheres, fills my heart with rapture beyond all expression. The Mission is thriving more than it seems on Earth. All is going as per our wishes. We will come back to this."
