Whispers from The Brighter World

A Fifth Revelation

Friday, March 9, 2007 – 10:00 a.m.

Let yourself be carried towards the Inexpressible, where our hearts converge. Your Master logically precedes you, and our 'tripartite meeting' – as he coined it – can start. This is how this series of messages was given. Their content is not insignificant as one may be deluded into thinking by the comments therein; nothing in these lines is useless, you can believe me. It is our prerogative to show what a fervent heart is able to offer in such circumstances; therefore we have no hesitation in doing that. To some extent, it is a privilege to read these writings; my son has understood this very well. They add to an already extensive literature, though their scope is different. The names of some people are mentioned in these messages. For many centuries, there have been precedents for these kinds of inspired writings, which offend no one. Ours will go a long way – their characteristics are of a different nature. Doesn't everything have its raison d'être?"

"We are granted the opportunity to express ourselves in this way. Why not seize it? Our Divine Guide smooths away the difficulties before us, and when necessary, He enlightens us on important details that need reflection. When the moment comes to bring this beautiful story to an end, a fruitful harvest will enrich our Mission, with this abundant manna of messages preciously preserved."

"Thus is wisdom expressed throughout these lines. My son is 'enlightened', as he can correctly say. May he keep progressing in this extraordinary path! He fills with joy all those who love him and support and help him as best they can. May our love carry and sustain him in his heavy mission in this world."
