Beloved Master
Revered Babuji Maharaj

Whispers from The Brighter World

A Fifth Revelation

Tuesday, March 13, 2007 – 4:00 p.m.

The Medium: "Eventually, in you I found my Master. There is more than one way for that. The mazes of my heart resound with the echoes of Your voice. Each day, it makes itself heard in these privileged contacts where our Beloved, very often, joins this chorus. The result is this culmination, comprised of these meetings that are so special, at the threshold of the Immutable Beauty."

My dear sister, our hearts rejoice in loving. Our Divine Guide initiated these contacts; He ensures that the Infinite Splendour captivates us to the extent of making us forget all the remainder. Therefore, let us once again be carried away on the wings of Divinity and let us love up to the limits granted to us."

S.E.

"This unique communion between your hearts will remain in the annals of our Mission. These inspiring lines will show the way to other hearts that are enamoured of the Absolute and who have been, hitherto, looking for the way to the Unutterable in vain, without really finding it.

"May a similar harmony be felt very deeply by our readers; may all be captivated and blessed."

Babuji

