Whispers from The Brighter World

A Fifth Revelation

Saturday, March 17, 2007 – 4:00 p.m.

United in praising, such is the unfailing bond between our hearts. Caught in the dynamics of the Spirit, how can they resist this call that propels them into such a subtle flow of energy? This energy is strongly evocative of the garden of the delights where the chosen souls are divinely brought together!

"Let us enjoy this profound peace – blessed moments offered by Him who governs our hearts in his perfectly effective manner, both soft and strong. How can we resist when all this love dwells within us and nourishes us at every moment."

"Remember, my dear son, how much my heart was overflowing with love for my Master, to the extent of sometimes tiring people around me. This powerful force is irreversible. Blessed are those who live such a passion; this is a special grace altogether. Therefore, let yourself be carried by this redeeming wave; it leads to bliss."

The Medium: "How could one not let themselves be carried away by this powerful flow with twofold attributes, insofar as it emanates from your united hearts. This fusion seems unique to my heart that is brimming with gratitude as these constant graces move it deeply.

"Loving unrestrainedly – that is the regal path for a heart enamoured of the Absolute. No limit seems to be set in this area; so until the last breath of life on this Earth, ardent soul – love infinitely!"

"Finally, you are expressing yourself unrestrainedly, we inspire you for that. How could you resist the pressure of our two hearts that are working accordingly? All is well like that, my daughter. Be at peace."
