Whispers from The Brighter World

A Fifth Revelation

Saturday, March 24, 2007 – 4:00 p.m.

The Medium: "Love can be emanated ad infinitum. In this, you, my Master, have set the best example. It carries you, it makes you grow and this force touches me in the depth of my being. Without this unique vibration, how would I manage to tune in to you, to seize, however little it may be, the beauty of your soul and to benefit from this example which nourishes my soul each day."

Loving at this level opens the sacred way taken by noble souls who left traces of their passage in this world. Loving is not futile; loving is about glorifying the divine power, which all, to varying degrees, can benefit from. Loving, laughing, suffering – life is a whole. We know it, and yet, tests are sometimes difficult to accept. Yes, we are repeating ourselves, but how can it be otherwise when this unfortunate tendency of losing heart is inherent in human nature?

"May these comments one day help our brothers and sisters on the difficult road of life. And may they all follow the road of the heart that offers immense resources, almost inexhaustible, through the examples that have come down to us through the ages."

"My son, on the human level, you had the qualifications required to fulfil this mission among humans. Since your birth, everything was included in these qualifications allowing you to face up to your destiny. The reality of this world – fraught with many difficulties to be overcome – puts man in the face of his own resources. Man is tested, shall we say, in all acts of his life. He keeps coping, surpassing himself, and in various areas he continually has the opportunity to show his true nature. Seen from that point of view, life takes on another meaning when the heart, haloed with an extraordinary love and divinely inspired, testifies to its good deeds. The best to you, my very dear son!"
