Beloved Master
Revered Babuji Maharaj

Whispers from The Brighter World

A Fifth Revelation

Wednesday, August 29, 2007 – 10:00 a.m.

The story of your voices merged together in this long love song will last and leave its mark on our way in the future. Time will give it its true dimension; it will appeal to zealous hearts capable of grasping all its nuances and its beauty.

"Thus is how it has always been with beautiful stories engraved on the memory of time.

"Doesn't everything here, more than elsewhere, have its raison d'être?"

Babuji

The Medium: "O Babuji and you my Master, you give me true life, that which delights the soul in its profound longing to love. Thus is mine glorifying your two names merged together in this culmination."
