Sunday, June 13, 1999 - 10:00 a.m.

I have experienced the same torments as you, doubting the messages I was receiving, not realizing what my revered Master was telling me concerning my progress. Although we belong to different spiritual levels, our human reactions are identical. It was almost painful, on some days. Sometimes I was comfortable with the situation, but on other occasions I was generally assailed by doubt. I understand you, my child; you must struggle on all fronts. I suffered much in my body. Receiving spiritual graces and not feeling concerned—I had experienced that too. You see, we have every reason to understand each other."

The Medium: "The dust of atom which I am, surrenders on to your heart with delights. To feel so well understood by you, gives me unparalleled happiness. What one may think of my simplistic comments does not matter! You were said to be simple-minded, let alone me! I will not change this state for anything in the world, my love for you is incommensurable; here it is, it is said and even written, I do not regret it."

"Hadn't I announced to you a special day? You are living it in this moment. We feel your heart brimming with happiness, we are so happy to see you in this state. My son also has something to do with that, you can thank him."

The Medium: "Babuji, I am unable to add anything expressible in words."

"France, Europe, once again benefit from an important work accomplished by your Master. You should, all of you, be grateful; love him, him who loves you all."

Babuji