Whispers from The Brighter World

A Fifth Revelation

Tuesday, October 23, 2007 – 10:00 a.m.

It would be good for this meeting with your Master to take place; it would complete a further fine tuning of your mystical union, as per the wishes of the hierarchy.

"There are so many things yet to be said, in spite of the impressive number of messages that have already been written. May all our brothers and sisters benefit from them one day and thus nourish their souls. Various teachings that have marked the world so far were inspired in this way, though they may not be recognised as such. What matters is the essence of these writings and their likely impact; thus has it been from time immemorial. Our way is no exception in this area; it also has this attractive form of teaching that has influence over the hearts that are willing to receive it. May they all reach a state of bliss and follow the current trend of the world, that is to give priority to its spiritual elevation, in accordance with the divine plans. May the higher will be done."
