Whispers from The Brighter World
A Fifth Revelation

Friday, October 26, 2007 – 10:00 a.m.

Not reading a message after a meditation is tantamount to not reading the Bible during a 'religious' service."

(Later)

"This aspect of things must be considered; our way is at the beginning of its expansion in the world of humans and it is winning over hearts at its own pace in an irreversible manner. The impact of these messages will become critical to our readers. The vocation of our Mission is engraved in time and space. Since its soaring years ago, each of its constituent elements has done its level best to serve it with the means it had.

"Thus it appears at the dawn of this century, with all of its potential. The ruling Master, chosen and elected, is its spiritual heart. His objective is to lead it to the pinnacle and nothing must be neglected for that. These writings are an addition to what exists already, and beyond Master's action, to various levels of consciousness, a method capable of taking our aspirants to the required goal. May they all reach it to the full, trusting in their guide and our system – which befits the new era."
