Whispers from The Brighter World

A Fifth Revelation

Tuesday, November 27, 2007 – 10:00 a.m.

Do not be worried about your request to my son concerning a photograph to be inserted in the English book you wish to offer to the Manapakkam ashram. This was not your idea and it does not suit you, but you obey as you usually do for anything suggested by us.

"Therefore, be at peace on this issue.

"If my son does not visit you during his trip to France, as we have informed you on several occasions, do not blame any deficiencies on your part or question the accuracy and the reliability of these writings. Please do not conceal this series of messages. They are the ultimate emanation of our united spirits coming towards you each day and inspiring these lines in you. You should fully bear these remarks in mind – will you please? All these years of good and faithful service cannot end with this misunderstanding.

"Rest and be blessed, my daughter."
