Beloved Master
Revered Babuji Maharaj

Whispers from The Brighter World
A Fifth Revelation

Sunday, December 23, 2007 – 12:00 p.m.

My daughter, your heart emanates love; we shower it accordingly.

"Thus was your destiny in this world where your body is not spared. Life here below is short compared to eternity. Your stay on Earth will not have been in vain. Time will give you a prime position in our Mission; don't forget it. This confirms our previous remarks. You should get accustomed to this idea: being in the background today, according to your wishes, and being in the light tomorrow – the divine intentions are inescapable.

"In these times when solitude and isolation weigh heavily on you, you should view only the light; we offer it to you in this moment. Rejoice, please. Be blessed."

Babuji