Whispers from The Brighter World
A Fifth Revelation

Sunday, January 20, 2008 – 10:00 a.m.

You are in a way, a beautiful way, meant to liberate the hearts fond of the Absolute. Divested of rituals and superfluity, it is expanding on Earth for the good of men, ever-wandering, and torn between human passions and the ever-arising, though unheard, call of the soul."

Babuji

"Our hearts, instead, do hear; they merge in this moment when we are overcome with grace; our Beloved provides for it.

"Words do not matter, and yet aren't they the outer signs of these unparalleled mystical impulses? When the soul is thus quenched at the Source, all the rest seems vain, save for love, this rare energy. It lays hold of an open heart, without further ado, and gives it its true dimension. Thus are these unique moments, lived and offered to the divine heart of Him who inspires them."
