Whispers from The Brighter World

A Fifth Revelation

Tuesday, January 29, 2008 – 10:00 a.m.

Your universal vision of the world protects you from the prejudices of race and social class. Thus you worked in other lives, in the field shall we say, unlike in this one where your action ought to be of a different nature, far from the world and noise.

"You did not like this way of life, but by force of circumstances, you have put up with it more than you have accepted it. Such was your mission in this incarnation and there is nothing to regret, you can believe this. Should one remind you about the importance of these messages? Who really understands it, except your Master! You were chosen for that and you have answered our request with fervour and steadfastness.

"You love India and India loves you already; it will love you even more in the future. Where, better than in this country, can such writings be appreciated? The name of 'Nivéditâ' still suits you; we give it to you again, with all our love."
