Whispers from The Brighter World

A Fifth Revelation

Thursday, February 2, 2008 – 10:00 a.m.

My daughter, don't be saddened by your memories of former seminars. Men are like that: some of them forget and others do not. Happy are our brothers and sisters who remember and maintain inside them this flame, bringing together the Masters of the past and the present, in the ritual of these birthday celebrations. They all are one and the same entity, according to the progress of our Mission here below, as well as on other levels of consciousness. Remembering is an act of faith as well as a sacred duty. Is it too much to expect of our aspirants to have a pause in their daily life and have a special meditation? This can only help them spiritually and make them become aware of the impact of a spiritual way like ours, as well as of their progress. May all fervent hearts always be united during these remembrance days, for their good and that of the Mission!

"May all be blessed and strengthened in their search; we are helping them according to their efforts."

Lalaji

"There is nothing more beautiful than loving my Master and honouring him. His greatness cannot be forgotten in our Mission. Our aspirants, those who are really committed, will be very keen to perpetuate his memory in the future. Isn't He the initiator of our way? To remember the Great Master Lalaji as is proper, it is to venerate all the Masters united, now and in the future. May all our brothers and sisters become aware of this reality and not forget it."
