Wednesday, July 9, 2008 – 10:00 a.m.

The union of positive forces will save this planet against all odds, particularly against men's boundless excesses. How far will they go with their unconsciousness, greed and lack of respect for nature. They need severe lessons which, alas, will be given. Everything has its price in this world; thus are the laws. They stem from the strictest sense of justice; it is necessary for the transformation of the human race, on the road to sanctification – which is highly uncertain at the present time.

"The way of Sahaj Marg is part of this great redeeming movement; it will become the backbone of it, in the future centuries. Thus are the divine intentions. Continue to work in your own way to serve it, with all the love you are capable of.

"As you can see, we do not forget you, do not lose heart; you have overcome so many tests. We bless you, my dear daughter; we help you in our own way."
