Whispers from The Brighter World

A Fifth Revelation

Tuesday, July 29, 2008 – 10:00 a.m.

The African Mission is soaring; it will surprise you in the future. It contains a potential, whose scope will be revealed with time.

"By and large, the beings there are less entangled in considerations detrimental to their evolution, as is the case in the West. The land is full of hope; this is not negligible and it deserves all necessary attention.

"This visit has made you happy, my daughter, although limited by the force of things. Your children-in-heart are valorous pilgrims in the service of their Master, with their utmost and sincere commitment. We follow them with interest and love.

"We will not stress you any longer. Rest, you have to; we are imposing on you. We accompany you on this difficult path. Your Beloved,"
