You are not amazed by anything happening to you on the esoteric plane, except when you are given evidence about what is said about you. There are two lives in you: one, very much involved in the material world, and sensitive to all that occurs around you and in the world, and the other related to a person who is a kind of sage living completely disconnected from this Earthly life.

"You have your feet firmly planted on the ground, but the head is in the stars. You only wish one thing, it seems: to complete this second notebook [of messages], as you call it. We can see how much effort it takes you; you were afraid that you might not complete this work, but we are getting there.

"Your two children-in-heart will soon send off 'to press'. These two ones are very resourceful. They do not sleep on the job; the world belongs to them. They would be able to fly to the moon, if they were so requested! We are happy to see them playing an active role in the Mission. They are good elements, in whom we put our trust. We will see how they will be working; we have no doubt about the results they will obtain. They will have to travel in the future, which they will not mind; they have a bit of a nomadic disposition and are versatile. If you feel like continuing for the love of us, we will be present. Do as you wish, my daughter, we know that you always see things through. You are strong, we appreciate."
