Beloved Master
Revered Babuji Maharaj

Whispers from The Brighter World

A Fifth Revelation

Monday, August 11, 2008 – 5:00 p.m.

Very dear Parthasarathi, my son, We here are in an aside, far from the world of men, their faults and their ceaseless requirements. In this reserved space, where our hearts meet, is peace and harmony. Here love can express itself, totally, far from the social conventions inherent in a lifestyle where everything and every other minute, is complicated. Let your mind free itself of human baseness. You have nothing to reproach yourself with. There is general agreement about you and all respect you and admire you. Follow your road, confident and surrendered; the divine intentions make light of our fears, our hopes and even our certainties. You are overcome by a great tiredness; we understand it. Thanks to this means of communication, we can reassure you, support you in this heavy toll which is yours.

"Look in our direction. Do not worry, more than is sensible, about the behaviour of these beings who are dear to you or who are around you in this divine game.

"Be at peace, please. Love us and serve us until the end as best you can. All will take place naturally, in spite of the vagaries of a world that fluctuates and is disappointing in many respects.

"Never mind. See far ahead and be happy, we are fully satisfied with your mission. What more could one ask for? Seeing you happy fills us with happiness; all those who love you are listening. Please smile, and be patient. When liberation comes, you will be the happiest and the most fulfilled of us all.

"Your Master,"

Babuji Maharaj

(Later from Babuji: "Are you satisfied with this")

