Whispers from The Brighter World
A Sixth Revelation

My very dear son,

The Great initiator of our way is the very Great and Revered Lalaji Maharaj. His guidance is fundamental. Vested with His powers, his successors benefit from his might to accomplish their mission. The great anniversary of his arrival on Earth has come; it is advisable to remember it and to auspiciously honour him. Our way exists due to him and thus is devoted to him. It will deeply influence this century. Its extension in the world is programmed that way, and it is the divine will. There will be no lack of ups and downs. They are inevitable in this world of contrasts where people fight for bad reasons.

Thus are the effects of this polarity which maintains good, but also evil at a disturbing level for the balance of this planet with the insane means available to human beings today. May peace emerge one day from this killing frenzy, once again giving humans balance and the possibility for each one to attain a higher level of wisdom. May the divine intention be truly implemented, opening vast horizons to all, beyond racial prejudices and multiple differences between people. Wisdom, here below, will not come tomorrow. Many are making progress; we are working towards it resolutely. Our Mission is playing its role; it is not the least. It is up to each one to become aware of it by giving priority to improving oneself.

Be blessed among all, our dear and great son, unique to our united hearts. We carry you to the pinnacle of the chosen ones, with all possible love. Be in peace, as also those who surround you with devotion and who support you on the difficult path that is yours. May this birth anniversary be a day of peace and love for all.
