The Medium: Babuji, use your scribe as long as she is fit for it.

To set your mind at rest, complete what is in progress.

Once printed, you will see these writings from a new angle, you will rediscover them.

When you feel like it, you may all refer to the message of the day – a message 'from the beyond', yet one that will speak to your heart.

Your minds are open to this form of communication; you have an advantage over those that are not.

There too, in the future, it will be necessary that all Earthlings be aware of the existence of parallel worlds, that minds open up and understand that certain beings have paranormal perceptions enabling them to communicate with entities existing on other planes of consciousness.

A time will come when you all must open up to these truths.

There will always be some reluctance, but what does it matter. You who have the good fortune to understand these phenomena, do not linger over the reactions of those who stubbornly object to these ideas; each one has their own. You are privileged.

In ancient times, societies considered to be primitive were clearly more open to this kind of contact, and to many other possibilities that you have not been able to enjoy for a long time.

So-called advanced civilizations have neglected these various aspects of human powers, considering them to be savage practices.

One day, these kinds of values will resurface. A great sweep will be made in the current teaching concerning what is useless.

Other values will be not only recognized, but also respected and emphasized.

Rejoice for being among the enlightened minds.
