Beloved Master
Revered Babuji Maharaj

Whispers from The Brighter World
A Sixth Revelation

Sunday, March 8, 2009 – 10:00 a.m.

Let it be, let people talk; jealousy and the meanness of certain people in relation to these messages do not matter. As has already been said, nothing will stop the progress of these messages on this Earth. Their impact goes beyond the framework of this world. Would you have imagined that? What is good for the spiritual progress of humanity also benefits many souls moving towards the goal and seeking inspired texts like these – ones whose vibration serves to elevate the being. It is all just beginning. It was not easy for you to have them recognised by your Master; you were not the only one claiming to communicate with us. But isn't it said, what must be will be? Everything takes its proper place; time does its work slowly in this world. These writings already have a predominant place in our Mission, and they will become a reference point within it. That is the way it goes.

Babuji