Whispers from The Brighter World
A Sixth Revelation

Wednesday, April 1, 2009 – 10:00 a.m.

Be happy, my daughter. In spite of the painful effects on you, this meeting will bear fruit beyond what you can imagine. Trust us; this additional suffering is an offering to the Divine. It is all counted, you know this. You spontaneously offer while trying to do as well as you can for all, and it grieves you to not be able to do more.

Who knows you better than we do?
All is well, according to what must be.
