Whispers from The Brighter World
A Sixth Revelation

Sunday, May 3, 2009 – 10:00 a.m.

The Medium:
The 'little nothing' is clinging on, Babuji. It tries to face up to things, to be listening to you, and to answer your request, as regards messages intended for your son. For the love of you, my Beloved, what wouldn't I do to please you, whatever the difficulty? You are my priority in life.

We will help you, and what we have said will be done[4]. Keep heart, my daughter, you serve us selflessly. We appreciate this unique commitment. In your state of health, many others would have given up. This courage does you credit. Do not hesitate to write what we tell you about yourself. Usually you do not complain during these contacts, though your lassitude is great and we understand it.

You are not forgotten by us, or by your children-in-heart. They have to adapt themselves [to their new environment].

Be at peace, my child. We bless you. See this day as a moment of grace for your heart and a relief for your body. You are our very beloved daughter – do not forget it.

Babuji

[4] An improvement in health announced during a heart–based contact regarding meningeal pains.
