Whispers from The Brighter World
A Sixth Revelation

Friday, June 5, 2009 – 10:00 a.m.

Time will acknowledge our story; the messages will provide for this. In their surprising diversity, they will feed many aspects of knowledge.

This relationship of love, unique in its own way, will make them unfold. My son brings one dimension to it, a dimension that is on the scale of his action in the service of humanity, in the spheres of the Spirit where the world of the future is created.

May that which must be, be accomplished, according to the divine will.
