Beloved Master
Revered Babuji Maharaj

Whispers from The Brighter World

Saturday, June 19, 1999 – 8:00 a.m.

You are a sincere and faithful daughter, your love is selfless.
Such is not the case for all those who follow the Master assiduously.
Some always hope for favours or recognition, which flatter their egos.

There is everything in this world, and everything is needed; that is what prevents monotony in the human species.

If you had the possibility of closely observing the other living species, you would find the same. You would be surprised by what occurs – it is sometimes amazing – not only among animals, but also in the vegetable and mineral kingdoms, in other forms of manifestation.

So, it is not specific to humans.

Are they more sincere, those who follow the Master relentlessly and are ready to do anything to see him? Not necessarily.

They sometimes sacrifice a lot for it, and they are full of tricks, a strength that pushes them to act like that. It is necessary to let these various ways of acting be expressed.

Others stand at a distance and love in silence, without exteriorization of any kind. They are touching in their fervour and their humility.

All of you express yourselves in your own way.

We who see hearts, into the depths of hearts, we often discover pure wonders in very reserved beings.

There is no such thing as monotony among humans; the diversity of personalities is quite astounding sometimes.

The Creator of all things populated this Earth as he saw fit; it is up to us to adapt.

Babuji