Whispers from The Brighter World
A Sixth Revelation

Sunday, June 14, 2009 – 10:00 a.m.

It has all been said, or so it seems. Yet love at this level knows no limits. It is expressed freely, generously, without satiating the heart's appetite.

Happy are those who have this flame inside them, this ardour in loving. It is one's most precious possession in this world, beyond all the illusory values on which one so often relies.

Therefore, do not repress your hearts when they take this path of love. It is the only path that is worthwhile and that remains beyond materiality.

This rare energy captivates you. You should therefore accept it with gratitude and carry it inside you like a precious treasure. May you all be blessed and strengthened in this quest for the Ultimate.
