Whispers from The Brighter World
A Sixth Revelation

Sunday, July 19, 2009 – 9:00 a.m.

Lord Krishna blesses our way, both for what it is and for what it will become within the framework of an expansion of consciousness, the principle of which is set in motion. Our Mission is making progress effecting that direction. Our Beloved Son, your Master, is acting in every regard towards this prospect. Time is pressing; do not look back anymore, except to remember, with admiration and gratitude, a perfect Being equipped with all that constitutes the divine greatness as manifested here below – a Being who has illuminated the world at a time of obscurantism, as far as this great figure of our history is concerned.

It must be your objective, here and now, to advance, serve and contribute to the greatness of our Mission in all its forms, and to open doors – those of the Spirit in all its manifestations.

That is the objective of the present. Human beings look back; that is in their nature, but they must forge ahead, especially in this pivotal period when everything can change course from one moment to the next. Time is pressing; 'the inconceivable' is in the offing, and you should focus your efforts accordingly.

Be creative and vigilant. Draw your inspiration from the past to better build a future more in line with the objectives of the higher powers. All the great Beings are turning their attention to human elevation – a very vast subject – so as to exclude any error that would be fatal for humanity.

Explore what we offer all of you with more attention, won't you? Your minds, caught up in the upheaval of 'modernism', no longer see the main thing. Go deeply into our teachings, including this celestial manna represented by these messages. You do not realise how important they are. By all appearances, they contain nothing sensational, but they radiate energy and a truth which few hearts really grasp. You should interiorise yourselves and advance on the way of love; there lies the main thing and the strength of the future world, cleaned and restructured for its safeguarding.

Divest yourselves of useless things and get to the main thing; do not waste your time with that which is not worthwhile. Be vigilant – time flies and cannot be made up.

Serve your Master as best you can and love him above all – there lies your greatest and most beautiful challenge. Our special blessings to you all in this period of my beloved son's birthday.
