Whispers from The Brighter World
A Sixth Revelation

Friday, August 28, 2009 – 10:00 a.m.

My daughter, your spirit is escaping, freeing itself from a constraining physical body, to reach the sacred shores. These moments of escape help it to cope. There are so many torments you have to endure, but your love never fails. It strengthens with time and goes beyond the limits of this trying world to manifest itself elsewhere. Love that goes beyond matter is a rare energy, and it is, shall we say, redeeming. Happy are those whose hearts emanate it and those who receive it; they oppose an excessive materialism, as manifested here below.

Offering one's life to the Divine, devoting it to the service of a high-level Master and of a spiritual life like ours, is a rare blessing.

We happily witness the widening circle of the chosen ones, of seekers committed and persevering in this divine vocation.

Our Mission is extending around the world. It must be so; it is preparing for the future, which will be characterised by large-scale upheavals. Humanity must change; it is in the nature of things. We are all working towards that. It is up to each one of our abhyasis to become aware of this.
