Whispers from The Brighter World
A Sixth Revelation

Very dear Parthasarathi,
You should regain serenity, as much as possible in such a situation. In the face of everyday life with its difficulties, there is no such thing as a constant state of bliss; it is often disrupted by the harsh reality of this world. Being equal to the situation in every respect is no easy matter. This requires a sturdy character, in addition to a high-level spiritual stature. You are blessed with both, and this makes you the undisputed 'Master' of this cycle whose dynamism is unprecedented. Your successor will be very hard pressed, as large-scale changes destabilise even the strongest. Being well trained, well versed in high-level exercises, shall we say, he will walk in the footsteps of his predecessor with courage and faith, that which you inculcate in him with the passing days.

We have already said it: you are the figurehead of this Sahaj Marg ship, with sound conviction as a spiritual Master and some weaknesses when the human side reappears concerning your loved ones. All this is normal; we ourselves experienced it – every one of us here in this college of 'Great Beings', as you call them. On no account can the human side of the incarnate being be hidden. Hence the great sensitivity in spiritual Masters of a very high level; the past has shown this.

Be at peace, my dear son. We, whose words are quite weak to express it, support you with all our love. May this love illuminate your entire being.
