Whispers from The Brighter World
A Sixth Revelation

Monday, September 7, 2009 – 10:00 a.m.

This is a time that displays ugliness, violence in every form and unrestrained sex – from which the media derive benefit. Nice feelings are not as lucrative as those things we have just mentioned. Yet, noble souls are eager for something else. In our Mission, they are asserting themselves and can glimpse other horizons. A spiritual process leads them to wisdom. Rest assured there are many who appreciate these messages, particularly in terms of their simplicity of approach and the benefits derived from them. Your declarations of love, as you call them, should not remain hidden; your children-in-heart are right. Who knows these writings better than they do? And they will continue supporting them in various ways. By showing your love for us and for your Master, with both modesty and strength, you add a critical element to this spiritual nourishment; this is undeniable. Nothing is futile – such is the case in this area more than elsewhere. Touching souls, making them vibrate and taking them along in this beam of divine energy is a noble goal. Love is the greatest wealth offered to the human being; it provides inner peace and propels one on a path to the noblest of conquests, that of the sovereign Spirit.

Blessings to all, including your dear children-in-heart.
