Whispers from The Brighter World
A Sixth Revelation

Monday, April 5, 2010 – 10:00 a.m.

My son,

Bless you for your courage and your faith in us – we, who would like so much to alleviate your burden. We are permanently by your side, and yet you must undergo the harsh law of life in this world, without which your destiny could not be fulfilled. Blessed are you for the great things you are offering to the Divine. You will remain in the firmament of our Mission; your aura will continue to make it shine, today and even more so tomorrow in keeping with the higher plans. We bestow upon you all our love; it carries you and continually makes you grow in stature. Our united hearts are with you, our dear and great son, with all our wishes.
