Whispers from The Brighter World
A Sixth Revelation

Wednesday, April 21, 2010

My dearest son, we understand your feeling of helplessness, your state of uncertainty, but life can bring about unforeseeable changes.

We cannot act at the human level on your behalf; only our love supports and highly sanctifies you. Do your best, my son, by adapting to life's vicissitudes in the current situation.

Nothing is irreversible; give priority to the future, and do what you deem right. Human reactions will pass, and our Mission will remain the great spiritual movement that the world requires to build a better life, one more open to the higher reality – that is the priority.

We need at the head of the Mission a challenger who is also a high-level mystic, fully dedicated to the service of our cause and having no priority other than this one. This is truly a huge endeavour. By making a wise choice, you will be able to triumph.

You have our trust and our love; we admire you and praise you to the skies, where our united hearts are attentive to you and full of admiration for your courage.

Be at peace, in spite of everything. A lifetime on Earth is short; only your work will remain in the future, and it is beyond reproach.

Do your best. You are loved and supported, whatever happens.

With our unconditional love.

Ever yours,

Babuji
