Whispers from The Brighter World
A Sixth Revelation

Sunday, May 30, 2010 – 10:00 a.m.

My daughter, you possess the ability to arouse love. This energy carries you and benefits the people around you. Blessed are those who recognise it and enjoy it fully.

You are the receptacle of these highly-inspired messages. Chosen by special grace, you, and you alone, will remain our privileged and recognised messenger until the end. There is no other medium used officially in our Mission. The imagination of some of our abhyasis makes them believe that they too are custodians of our messages. You have always done your best, and we are overjoyed by the proven results produced by these writings. They are touching more and more hearts, and we are happy for this. Their trajectory is taking shape favourably. All is well, be at peace.

[Later]

Convey this to my son, won't you?
