Whispers from The Brighter World
A Sixth Revelation

Tuesday, July 13, 2010

Try to overcome the tensions that are inherent in this life. Let your soul feast on the Divine; that is all it is longing for. The various annoyances of this world irritate your soul; only harmony and peace can generate within it a state that is nearly ecstatic, one in which it likes to revel.

You are unique in your domain; the number of written messages is astounding. Our comments flow inside you and are happily reproduced on paper. Your heart is taken over and carried by ours. How could we better communicate with our beloved son than through these lines!

Once again, for his birth anniversary, your Master will be showered with our wishes. You fulfil your pledge with happiness, although you are still overcome by the fear of not being up to the task. May my son find, through the pages he will soon receive, the comfort he desires.

You too should be at peace and reassured; all is well.
