Whispers from The Brighter World
A Sixth Revelation

Sunday, July 25, 2010 – 10:00 a.m.

My dear son,
You have done the right thing. This birthday celebration will be remembered in more ways than one.

The Mission must be restructured in the right direction, towards balance and equity. Your choice will be decisive for it; you are already inspired accordingly. An era of peace and love must be established within it, which entails overcoming power games that we cannot tolerate in view of the greatness of a spiritual way meant to leave its mark on humanity of the future. Moral integrity and justice must prevail and fortify the foundations of a far-reaching movement like ours, whose influence must come to bear on this world.

Blessed son among all, may peace be in your heart. Tests are constructive; we would have preferred to spare you these, but such is the path of the great. May the best emerge from all this; such is our fervent wish for you and for this Mission that is so dear to our hearts!

Very special blessings: may the strength of our love lift you up to the highest level.

Be happy, my son, in spite of everything.

Babuji
