Beloved Master
Revered Babuji Maharaj

Whispers from The Brighter World
A Sixth Revelation

Saturday, December 18, 2010 – 10:00 a.m.

In concluding this seminar for the French in India, we will give you a message for my son. He is giving his best, until the end. Are our abhyasis happy? We hope so. You know the reactions of humans, my daughter; it is difficult to please them, on all levels.

Time is passing; we try to sensitise our brothers and sisters to the fact that it is precious. Every moment counts; life is short compared to eternity. It is necessary to be aware of this fact and to act accordingly by leaving baseness behind and going towards what is essential. It is not easy to help humans. Rooted in this world of matter, they undergo the negative effects of it. No matter what we do, there is a part of them that often allows itself to be overcome by sad inclinations.

May the time for a perfect world come soon, when love will prevail. There remains much to do. Courage and blessings to all.

Babuji