Friday, December 31, 2010 – 10:00 a.m.

Parthasarathi, my dearest,

Your Master and all of us here leave you in a dilemma. The result of it will be decisive for our Mission. The truth will reveal itself to you; so must it be.

This decision will be crucial to our Mission: it is about a faithful Master, respectful of our laws, of perfect moral standards and capable of playing a major role in the realm of spiritual transmission. That is the requirement set by the hierarchy, which is strict on this point. Our way is not a gimmick; it will stand out in the future, as suggested by its current growth.

The time of wisdom on this Earth has not yet arrived. We are contributing to it according to our capabilities. Our method is not very demanding; it does not require hours of isolation, only resolute regularity in one's practice and total respect for the living Master in these times of madness in a dissolute world. It is good to have devotees who can raise the vibratory level of this world; this energy offsets the negative effects of the non-compliance with divine laws that is currently taking place. We inspire you to the fullest extent, and we support you in everything.

You have our unconditional love.

Best wishes, our dear chosen son,

Lalaji