Whispers from The Brighter World
A Sixth Revelation

Saturday, January 1, 2011 – 10:00 a.m.

Dearest son,

A new year begins; it will be decisive for our Mission. The entire hierarchy of Masters is attentive to its evolution. You have been leading it for a long time – masterfully, as the saying goes – and you have nothing to reproach yourself with.

Everything is being set up to facilitate the appointment of your successor. The task will be huge for him, but he will succeed in handling the difficulties that will inevitably arise. In addition to the human aspects, external events will further complicate his work; big upheavals are looming, which will compel humans to adapt to the changes imposed by the elements. The Earth will undergo major changes in the future. Our abhyasis will have the refuge of faith, which is not negligible. All this is coming, but it will not happen tomorrow. In any case, we must consider it.

People of this time are privileged in many respects, but they are never pleased. Harsher times will come, which they will then compare with today's circumstances.

We are by your side, my dear Parthasarathi, though not as you would like. We help you in our own way.

May our love warm your heart and lift you up higher and higher, all the way to the ethereal spheres.

Babuji
