Whispers from The Brighter World
A Sixth Revelation

The Medium: You are the oasis of peace and love in which my heart rejoices. Without it my life would be without appeal and mired in daily living. You give it a joyful dimension, the only joy truly capable of delighting the heart over the course of time. Time can only increase this fervour; grace accompanies and strengthens it.

You have understood it all: love begets love and embellishes the soul, adorning it with the most beautiful lights. Love endlessly and beyond measure – there lies the secret, dear heart.
