For the Birthday of Parthasarathi Maharaj, July 24

My son,
Your birth anniversary is drawing near. It is a great moment for our Mission when wishes are being extended to you. The succession issue is your main worry. The choice is not easy; sometimes we fail to see things that are yet obvious around us. May this magnificent moment that is coming give you peace, courage and lucidity in order to focus well on that choice. We support you in every aspect; mistakes are sometimes necessary as they subsequently allow one a clearer view of what needs to be done. Whatever you will do, we are close to you in utmost understanding.

Blessed are you, the great son of our united hearts! Be courageous in facing once again the upcoming event. These short messages are given to motivate you. May the strength of our love provide effective support for your own good and that of this great Mission that is so dear to us all.

Babuji
