For the Birthday of Parthasarathi Maharaj, July 24

One last word, more personal.

My dear son, you know how much we support you, but alas, we cannot spare you everything. Your experiences of the past year are proof of it. Such problems cannot be averted, despite all our attention towards you; it is in the order of things.

Continue to advance; immerse yourself in us, in the love we bestow on you with an abiding faith in your person. This special energy carries you in a certain way and you relay it with all your power.

You will soon resolve your outstanding problem related to your succession in the Mission. The decision you will take will be the right one. We greatly support you in a process that is very difficult, but one that elevates you to heights you cannot imagine.

Take heart, my beloved son. When you rejoin us, you will be able to assess better than today all the progress you will have made while on Earth – far from us yet so close to our hearts.

Once again, we wish to express our love to you on this very special day.

We wish you all the best.

Your Master,

Babuji
