Beloved Master
Revered Babuji Maharaj

Whispers from The Brighter World
A Sixth Revelation

Thursday, July 21, 2011 – 9:30 a.m.

My beloved son,
This moment in the Mission is of the utmost importance. You must choose its future Master; this is no trivial matter for you, yet it is a crucial one. The past is the past; only the present time matters, along with the crucial act [of choosing the next Master] for a spiritual way like ours. What is being done today could not be done yesterday. 'Doesn't all have its raison d'être?'

This anniversary is important; it marks a great step for the future. You are at your zenith and you will do the right thing. We carry you in our hearts as a precious treasure. You are and will remain the beacon that has shown the way for this Sahaj Marg Mission, allowing it to expand and grow as is proper.

All is well; things are being done to our liking. Keep your strength and take heart for the love of us. Thus will be accomplished that which may be an additional task for you, but an essential one for all of us here who love and help you as best as possible.

To you, the best, dear son of our hearts.

Babuji